Lorem Ipsum 'Back to the Future' style

You extol me with a lot of confidence, Doc. Why that's me, look at me, I'm an old man. Dammit, Doc, why did you have to tear up that letter? If only I had more time. Wait a minute, I got all the time I want I got a time machine, I'll just go back and warn him. 10 minutes oughta do it. Time-circuits on, flux-capacitor fluxing, engine running, alright. No, no no no no, c'mon c'mon. C'mon c'mon, here we go, this time. Please, please, c'mon. You're George McFly. She's just trying to keep you respectable.

Wait a minute. I'll get it back to you, alright? You got a real attitude problem, McFly. You're a slacker. You remind me of you father when he went her, he was a slacker too. No, bastards. Dear Doctor Brown, on the night that I go back in time, you will be shot by terrorists. Please take whatever precautions are necessary to prevent this terrible disaster. Your friend, Marty.

C'mon. It's cold, damn cold. Ha, ha, ha, Einstein, you little devil. Einstein's clock is exactly one minute behind mine, it's still ticking. Time machine, I haven't invented any time machine. Oh yes sir. That's a great idea. I'd love to park.

Where? Ronald Reagon. Huh? What was it, George, bird watching? Let's put him in there.

This is for all you lovers out there. Jesus, George, it's a wonder I was ever born. Hey, hey, keep rolling, keep rolling there. No, no, no, no, this sucker's electrical. But I need a nuclear reaction to generate the one point twenty-one gigawatts of electricity that I need. Y'know this time it wasn't my fault. The Doc set all of his clocks twenty-five minutes slow. Hello, Jennifer.

Wait a minute, Doc. What are you talking about? What happens to us in the future? What do we become assholes or something? Marty you gotta come back with me. Hey kid, what you do, jump ship? Oh, yeah, yeah. George: you ever think of running for class president?

Whoa, they really cleaned this place up, looks brand new. Don't tell me anything. You heard her she said get your meat hooks, off, uh please. Keys? Don't stop, Wilbert, drive.

Maybe you were adopted. What's going on? Where have you been all week? I guarantee it. My insurance, it's your car, your insurance should pay for it. Hey, I wanna know who's gonna pay for this? I spilled beer all over it when that car smashed into me. Who's gonna pay my cleaning bill? Holy shit.

In that case, I'll tell you strait out. Brown, Brown, Brown, Brown, Brown, great, you're alive. Do you know where 1640 Riverside- Lynda, first of all, I'm not your answering service. Second of all, somebody named Greg or Craig called you just a little while ago. Let me show you my plan for sending you home. Please excuse the crudity of this model, I didn't have time to build it to scale or to paint it. Hey boy, are you alright?

Yeah, it's 8:00. oh yeah, all you gotta do is go over there and ask her. How could I have been so careless. One point twenty-one gigawatts. Tom, how am I gonna generate that kind of power, it can't be done, it can't. I can't play. Without any sugar.

I'm too loud. I can't believe it. I'm never gonna get a chance to play in front of anybody. This is more serious than I thought. Apparently your mother is amorously infatuated with you instead of your father. Yeah, it's in the back. Who do you think, the Libyans. I have to tell you about the future.

Why not? whoa, this is it, this is the part coming up, Doc. Hey, George, buddy, you weren't at school, what have you been doing all day? No sir, I'm gonna make something out of myself, I'm going to night school and one day I'm gonna be somebody. Uh, Lorraine. How did you know I was here?

Hey. Yeah, it's in the back. I don't know, but I'm gonna find out. Yeah. Yeah, exactly.

Ah. Whoa. Marty, one rejection isn't the end of the world. Hey, not too early I sleep in on Saturday. Oh, McFly, your shoe's untied. Don't be so gullible, McFly. You got the place fixed up nice, McFly. I have your car towed all the way to your house and all you've got for me is light beer. What are you looking at, butthead. Say hi to your mom for me. Oh, you make it sound so easy. I just, I wish I wasn't so scared. Marty, this may seem a little forward, but I was wondering if you would ask me to the Enchantment Under The Sea Dance on Saturday.

Oh, then I wanna give her a call, I don't want her to worry about you. C'mon, c'mon let's go. Are you gonna order something, kid? Jesus, George, it's a wonder I was ever born. You'll find out in thirty years.

Just say anything, George, say whatever's natural, the first thing that comes to your mind. Hey not too early I sleep in Sunday's, hey McFly, your shoe's untied, don't be so gullible, McFly. Hello, hello, anybody home? Think, McFly, think. I gotta have time to recopy it. Do you realize what would happen if I hand in my homework in your handwriting? I'd get kicked out of school. You wouldn't want that to happen would you, would you? You wait and see, Mr. Caruthers, I will be mayor and I'll be the most powerful mayor in the history of Hill Valley, and I'm gonna clean up this town. I swiped it from the old lady's liquor cabinet.

What did I just say? I don't wanna know your name. I don't wanna know anything anything about you. You wanna a Pepsi, pall, you're gonna pay for it. Doc, she's beautiful. She's crazy about me. Look at this, look what she wrote me, Doc. That says it all. Doc, you're my only hope. Here you go, lady. There's a quarter.

Yeah. Leave me alone. Yeah, he's right here. Doc. Oh, yeah, yeah.

Whoa, this is heavy. It's a board with wheels. See, there's Biff out there waxing it right now. Now, Biff, I wanna make sure that we get two coats of wax this time, not just one. After I fell off my toilet, I drew this. Lynda, first of all, I'm not your answering service. Second of all, somebody named Greg or Craig called you just a little while ago.

Right, George. Well, good luck you guys. Oh, one other thing, if you guys ever have kids and one of them when he's eight years old, accidentally sets fire to the living room rug, be easy on him. Hey Dad, George, hey, you on the bike. Who are you? Whoa, whoa, kid, kid, stop, stop, stop, stop. Are you gonna order something, kid?

Right. Never mind that, never mind that now, never mind that, never mind- Hey, George, buddy, you weren't at school, what have you been doing all day? Why not? No.

What do you mean you've seen this, it's brand new. Marty, don't be such a square. Everybody who's anybody drinks. What you got under here? There's that word again, heavy. Why are things so heavy in the future. Is there a problem with the Earth's gravitational pull? Ah well, sort of.

Working. Good. Have a good trip Einstein, watch your head. Hey Biff, check out this guy's life preserver, dork thinks he's gonna drown. Yeah, well history is gonna change. Excuse me.

Great Scott. Let me see that photograph again of your brother. Just as I thought, this proves my theory, look at your brother. We never would have fallen in love. Doc? Am I to understand you're still hanging around with Doctor Emmett Brown, McFly? Tardy slip for you, Miss Parker. And one for you McFly I believe that makes four in a row. Now let me give you a nickle's worth of advice, young man. This so called Doctor Brown is dangerous, he's a real nutcase. You hang around with him you're gonna end up in big trouble. That's good advice, Marty. I can't play.

How could I have been so careless. One point twenty-one gigawatts. Tom, how am I gonna generate that kind of power, it can't be done, it can't. Can't be. This is nuts. Aw, c'mon. George: you ever think of running for class president? Mom, is that you? Marty, one rejection isn't the end of the world.

Marty, will we ever see you again? Why not? But I can't go to the dance, I'll miss my favorite television program, Science Fiction Theater. Let's go. No, bastards.

He's your brother, Mom. Children. whoa, this is it, this is the part coming up, Doc. I got enough practical jokes for one evening. Good night, future boy. Yeah, I guessed you're a sailor, aren't you, that's why you wear that life preserver.

Flux capacitor. Stop it. Mr. McFly, Mr. McFly, this just arrived, oh hi Marty. I think it's your new book. Hey beat it, spook, this don't concern you. Does your mom know about tomorrow night?

Shit. No, Marty, we've already agreed that having information about the future could be extremely dangerous. Even if your intentions are good, they could backfire drastically. Whatever you've got to tell me I'll find out through the natural course of time. Leave me alone. It's safe now. Everything's lead lined. Don't you lose those tapes now, we'll need a record. Wup, wup, I almost forgot my luggage. Who knows if they've got cotton underwear in the future. I'm allergic to all synthetics. When could weathermen predict the weather, let alone the future.

Flux capacitor. Hey, hey, Doc, where are you? Maybe you were adopted. Marty, I'm sorry, but the only power source capable of generating one point twenty-one gigawatts of electricity is a bolt of lightning. Well, you mean, it makes perfect sense.

I followed you. Uh, I think so. How about a ride, Mister? I'm gonna get that son-of-a-bitch. Not a word, not a word, not a word now. Quiet, uh, donations, you want me to make a donation to the coast guard youth auxiliary?

Stop it. That's for messing up my hair. Yeah, it's 8:00. One point twenty-one gigawatts. One point twenty-one gigawatts. Great Scott. He's an absolute dream.

Okay Doc, this is it. Stand tall, boy, have some respect for yourself. Don't you know that if you let people walk all over you know, they'll be walking all over you for the rest of your life? Listen to me, do you think I'm gonna spend the rest of my life in this slop house? Save the clock tower, save the clock tower. Mayor Wilson is sponsoring an initiative to replace that clock. Thirty years ago, lightning struck that clock tower and the clock hasn't run since. We at the Hill Valley Preservation Society think it should be preserved exactly the way it is as part of our history and heritage. Well just gimme something without any sugar in it, okay? Oh no, don't touch that. That's some new specialized weather sensing equipment.

My insurance, it's your car, your insurance should pay for it. Hey, I wanna know who's gonna pay for this? I spilled beer all over it when that car smashed into me. Who's gonna pay my cleaning bill? No, bastards. Yeah, I'm- mayor. Now that's a good idea. I could run for mayor. Uh, plutonium, wait a minute, are you telling me that this sucker's nuclear? No, it was The Enchantment Under The Sea Dance. Our first date. It was the night of that terrible thunderstorm, remember George? Your father kissed me for the very first time on that dance floor. It was then I realized I was going to spend the rest of my life with him.

Okay, okay you guys, oh ha ha ha very funny. Hey you guys are being real mature. My god, they found me. I don't know how but they found me. Run for it, Marty. My god, they found me. I don't know how but they found me. Run for it, Marty. Alright, punk, now- Well, Marty, I'm almost eighteen-years-old, it's not like I've never parked before. Marty, you seem so nervous, is something wrong?

Oh, if Paul calls me tell him I'm working at the boutique late tonight. Mayor Goldie Wilson, I like the sound of that. Right. Lou, gimme a milk, chocolate. Lorraine, my density has popped me to you. Can't be. This is nuts. Aw, c'mon. You know, Doc, you left your equipment on all week.

Well, ma, we talked about this, we're not gonna go to the lake, the car's wrecked. David, watch your mouth. You come here and kiss your mother before you go, come here. Huh? And where's my reports? Hey.

Where the hell are they. Hey, don't I know you from somewhere? Right. Great Scott. Let me see that photograph again of your brother. Just as I thought, this proves my theory, look at your brother. That's Calvin Klein, oh my god, he's a dream.

My insurance, it's your car, your insurance should pay for it. Hey, I wanna know who's gonna pay for this? I spilled beer all over it when that car smashed into me. Who's gonna pay my cleaning bill? Next, please. What did I just say? Uh, you mean nobody's asked you? Great good, good, Lorraine, I had a feeling about you two.

Thanks a lot, kid. Oh, if Paul calls me tell him I'm working at the boutique late tonight. I'm gonna get that son-of-a-bitch. this has gotta be a dream. Oh.
